HURACÁN EVO

The Huracán EVO is the natural evolution of the Lamborghini V10 super sports car, based on the prowess and performance of the Huracán Performante and incorporating next-generation vehicle dynamic control, aerodynamics and human-machine interface. The Huracán EVO is the first application of predictive logic on vehicle dynamics control: fully-integrated Lamborghini Vehicle Dynamics System (LDVI) combined with four-wheel drive, four-wheel steering for redefined parameters of responsiveness, agility and easiness to drive. The new design has been developed mainly for improved aerodynamics hugely increasing downforce and efficiency. The V10 engine with 640 hp and 600 Nm of torque is coupled to a super sport exhaust system with high-positioned tail pipes that emphasize the naturally aspirated engine sound. The up to date infotainment system features a 8,4" touch-screen with multi gesture control and advanced connectivity. The completely renewed colour and trim range, new options as Carbon Skin and Ambient light and Ad Personam additional customization give the chance to every Huracán EVO customer to create a tailored configuration following his own taste.
